2. Engagement of Services

Huzzle hereby engages Talent to provide services ("Services") on a consulting basis, and the Talent hereby agrees to provide such Services to Huzzle and its Clients.

3. Period of Services

The Talent will provide the Services to the Client from the date they are Hired by a Client unless and until terminated by either the Talent, Huzzle, or the Client. Termination during the probation period requires seven (7) days' written notice, and after the probation period, requires two (2) weeks' written notice.

4. Duties When Providing Services

The Talent will provide the Services in accordance with this Agreement and will:

- Apply such time, attention, resources, and skill as may be necessary for the due and proper performance of the Services to the standard to be expected;
- Ensure that, when providing the Services, the Talent does not interfere with the activities of the Client, its employees, agents, suppliers, or customers except as reasonably necessary to carry out the Services;
- Ensure that all written Materials given by the Talent to Huzzle and/or the Client are or were accurate when given, and remain accurate and comprehensive in all material respects;
- Act in the Client's best interests and avoid conflicts of interest and promptly notify Huzzle and/or the Client of any conflict of interest which arises; and
- Comply with all applicable laws and Huzzle and/or the Client's policies and procedures from time to time insofar as they are relevant to the Services, including all relevant security and code of conduct policies.

Unless specifically authorized to do so by the Client in writing, the Talent will not have any authority to incur any expenditure in the name of or for the account of the Client nor hold themselves out as having authority to bind Huzzle and/or the Client.

5. Compensation and Payment

Provided that the Services are performed in accordance with this Agreement, Huzzle will pay the Talent the Compensation.

- Pay Rate: The Talent shall be paid a rate of 2000 USD per month.

- Performance Incentive Structure: The Talent may be eligible for performance incentives as determined by the Client who hires them, depending on the nature of the role. These incentives may include bonuses, commissions, or other rewards based on specific performance metrics set by the Client. The terms of the performance incentive structure will be discussed and agreed upon between the Client and the Talent. At the end of each month, the Client will fill out a Monthly Success Report, which will define the incentives earned by the Talent. Once received from the Client, Huzzle will pass on the incentives to the Talent.
- Payroll Timing: Huzzle shall run payroll on a semi-monthly basis and make payments to the Talent. The pay cycles end on the 15th and last day of each month. Payroll is processed within two (2) business days after the pay cycle ending. Compensation adjustments in accordance with Sections 5.1 and 5.2 will be reflected in the corresponding payroll cycle.

Conditions of Payment:

- The Talent will only receive the Compensation starting from the date they commence work with the Client. Any delays in onboarding, start dates, or other circumstances beyond Huzzle's control will not result in payment obligations to the Talent.
- The Talent will only receive the Compensation if they are currently hired by the Client and have not been terminated.
- In the event the Talent's engagement with the Client is terminated, whether by the Client, Huzzle, or the Talent, the Compensation will cease as of the termination date.
- All Compensation (including monthly pay rate and incentives) is strictly contingent upon Huzzle receiving full payment from the Client for the corresponding period. If the Client delays, disputes, withholds, or fails to pay Huzzle for any reason, Huzzle shall have no obligation to pay the Talent until payment is successfully received. Huzzle is not required to advance, pre-fund, or front any Compensation from its own resources.

Payment in full or in part of the Compensation (or any other sums) claimed under this section will be without prejudice to any claims or rights of Huzzle against the Talent in respect of the provision of the Services.

5.1. Absence-Based Pay Adjustment

The Talent acknowledges and agrees that compensation is contingent upon the provision of Services. Compensation is earned only for days and hours where Services are actually rendered. Any unapproved absences, late starts, early finishes, or failure to complete scheduled hours may result in automatic pro-rata deductions determined by Huzzle or the Client. No compensation is owed for unworked or partially worked days unless expressly approved in writing.

5.2. Superseding Compensation Terms

The Talent agrees that this Agreement supersedes any prior verbal or written representations regarding fixed, non-adjustable compensation. While the stated monthly pay rate represents the maximum payable amount before incentives, the actual amount paid in any period may be adjusted to reflect non-performance or days not worked, as determined reasonably and solely by the Client or Huzzle.

5.3. Paid Time Off

The Talent acknowledges and agrees that this Agreement does not entitle them to any form of paid time off, including vacation, sick leave, or public holidays, unless explicitly agreed in writing by both the Client and the Talent. Any paid leave or time off must be pre-approved and documented by the Client. In the absence of such written agreement, time not worked shall not be compensated.

6. Probation Period

The first three (3) months of the Talent's engagement with any Client shall be a probation period. During this probation period, either Huzzle or the Client may terminate the Talent's services with seven (7) days' notice if performance is deemed unsatisfactory.

7. Notice of Termination

During the probation period, either Huzzle or the Client may terminate the Talent's engagement by providing seven (7) days' notice. Following the probation period, either Huzzle or the Client may terminate the engagement by providing two (2) weeks' notice.

The notice period shall commence on the date that notice of termination is first reasonably communicated to the Talent by either Huzzle or the Client, whichever occurs first. Notice may be communicated verbally, in writing, or by any other reasonable means.

Where the Client informs Huzzle that notice of termination has been communicated to the Talent, such notification shall be deemed effective notice for the purposes of this Agreement, provided that at least one reasonable attempt to communicate such notice was made, regardless of whether such notice was provided in writing or whether the Talent acknowledges receipt or understanding of the notice.

Huzzle shall be entitled to rely in good faith on the Client's representation that notice has been communicated to the Talent and shall have no obligation to verify, confirm, or evidence such communication.

The Talent expressly acknowledges and agrees that Huzzle shall not be responsible for any misunderstandings, miscommunications, delays, or disputes arising from notice of termination communicated directly by the Client.

Any claim by the Talent that they were unaware of, misunderstood, or did not receive notice of termination shall not extend, delay, invalidate, or otherwise affect the effective termination date or any applicable notice period, provided that notice was reasonably communicated.

Termination shall be effective as of the date notice was first reasonably communicated by either Huzzle or the Client, irrespective of whether the Talent subjectively became aware of or acknowledged such termination.

8. Notice Pay Eligibility & Forfeiture

Any entitlement to notice pay is conditional and not automatic. Where termination arises due to unreliability, misconduct, material underperformance, poor work ethic, breach of this Agreement, or conduct that materially undermines trust or service delivery, the Client may, acting reasonably, elect to waive all or part of any notice pay.

No notice pay shall be owed where termination results from a material breach of this Agreement or conduct that materially disrupts the Client's operations or working relationship. Huzzle shall not be financially liable for any notice pay where the Client has reasonably determined that notice pay is not warranted under this clause.

9.Talent Pool and Client Assignment

9.1. Client Assignment Process

- By signing this Agreement, the Talent acknowledges that they are entering into a framework agreement to be part of Huzzle's Talent Pool. Signing this Agreement does not constitute immediate assignment to a Client or guarantee of work.
- From time to time, Huzzle may present specific Client opportunities to the Talent, including details such as role scope, expected working hours or timezone alignment, compensation, and the designated Client point of contact. The Talent may accept or decline such opportunities at their discretion.

- If the Talent elects to proceed with a presented opportunity, they may be introduced to the relevant Client and enter into that Client's interview and evaluation process. Such process may include one or more interviews, assessments, or other evaluation steps as determined by the Client.
- If the Client and the Talent mutually agree to proceed following the evaluation process, the Talent shall be deemed successfully engaged for that specific Client assignment. The Talent and the Client shall mutually determine the start date for the Services.
- The Talent shall provide Services to the Client under the terms of this Agreement beginning on the agreed start date. Compensation shall only commence from the Talent's actual start date with the Client and shall remain subject to the Compensation and Payment terms set forth in Section 5.

9.2. Engagement Upon Client Assignment

- If hired by a Client, the Talent will provide Services to that Client for the number of hours mutually agreed in writing between the Talent and the Client. The Talent remains an independent contractor of Huzzle and performs the Services as a subcontractor to the Client.

10. Concurrent Engagement Disclosure & Risk of Disruption

To ensure the integrity of client service and transparency in engagements, the Candidate agrees to promptly disclose to Huzzle Ltd. any concurrent work or client commitments that may materially affect their availability or ability to meet performance expectations.

Failure to disclose such concurrent engagements that result in client dissatisfaction, disruption to service delivery, or early termination of the engagement may constitute a material breach of this Agreement. In such cases, Huzzle Ltd. reserves the right to withhold final payment or recover any associated damages or losses incurred, up to a maximum of £5,000.

This clause does not restrict the Candidate's right to work elsewhere, provided any additional engagements do not materially interfere with their ability to perform assigned responsibilities to a satisfactory standard during a Huzzle client assignment.

11. Client Engagement and Cooling Off Period

The Talent cannot work for the Client without working through Huzzle, under the terms outlined in the Client Agreement:

- Client agrees not to circumvent Huzzle and engage the Talent directly or indirectly during the period of the Talent's engagement and for twelve (12) months thereafter.
- If the Client chooses not to engage the Talent, this restriction applies for twelve (12) months from the date the Talent was first introduced by Huzzle.

12. Client Option to Buyout Huzzle and Hire Talent Outside of Huzzle

a. During the Cooling Off Period, the client may elect to engage or employ the Talent outside of Huzzle by: i. Providing prior written notice to Huzzle; ii. Allowing for a reasonable wind-down period for the Talent; iii. Paying a buyout fee to Huzzle.

b. The exact buyout fee will be determined and agreed upon by Huzzle and the Client.

c. "Client-Hired Talent" refers to a Talent introduced to the Client by Huzzle who is then engaged directly by the Client during the Cooling Off Period.

12.1 Transition Following Client Buyout

Where the Client exercises the option to directly engage or employ the Talent outside of Huzzle pursuant to this Section 12, this Agreement and any obligations, protections, processes, or operational terms relating to the Talent-on-Demand model shall cease to apply from the effective date of such direct engagement, unless otherwise agreed in writing by Huzzle.

From the effective date of the direct engagement, the Talent acknowledges and agrees that their relationship shall be governed solely by the terms, policies, agreements, and conditions provided directly by the Client. The Client shall be solely responsible for administering and providing any such employment or contractor documentation, payroll arrangements, benefits, policies, compliance obligations, and ongoing engagement terms.

Huzzle shall have no responsibility or liability for the management, administration, or continuation of the Talent’s engagement with the Client following completion of the buyout process.

13. Non-Solicitation

The Talent agrees that during their engagement with Huzzle and for a period of twelve (12) months following the termination of this Agreement, they shall not:

1. Solicit or attempt to solicit any Clients of Huzzle for services similar to those offered by Huzzle without prior written consent from Huzzle.
2. Directly or indirectly engage with any Clients introduced to the Talent by Huzzle outside of this Agreement, except as permitted under the terms of the Client Option to Buyout Huzzle and Hire the Talent Outside of Huzzle clause.

In the event of a breach of this clause, Huzzle reserves the right to seek remedies, including but not limited to injunctive relief and financial damages.

14. Confidentiality

The Talent agrees not to disclose to any third party any information that is confidential to Huzzle or its Clients ('Confidential Information'). Confidential Information includes, but is not limited to:

1. Trade secrets, technical data, or client information;
2. Pay details, contracts, or operational methods;
3. Business strategies, marketing plans, or financial information;
4. Client details, leads, or related data;
5. Internal processes and workflows;
6. Technical resources or tools provided by Huzzle (e.g., CRM systems, software platforms, or proprietary tools); and
7. Materials or equipment classified as 'Business Property' provided to or produced by the Talent in connection with their services.

The Talent shall use Confidential Information solely to fulfill their obligations under this Agreement. Upon termination of this Agreement, the Talent must promptly return or destroy all Confidential Information, including Business Property, in their possession, whether physical or digital.

This obligation does not apply to:

- Any use or disclosure authorized by Huzzle or required by law; or
- Information already in the public domain through no unauthorized act by the Talent.

This confidentiality obligation shall survive indefinitely, even after the termination of this Agreement. In the event of a breach of confidentiality, the Talent acknowledges that Huzzle may:

- Seek injunctive relief or other equitable remedies to protect its Confidential Information;
- Claim financial indemnification for any losses, reputational damage, or legal costs incurred; and
- Terminate this Agreement immediately without notice in the case of a material breach.

15. Public Conduct & Reputation

The Talent shall not publish, post, or communicate, including on social media, any statements that could reasonably harm the reputation of Huzzle, its Clients, or associated personnel.

This obligation applies both during the term of this Agreement and indefinitely following its termination. Breach of this clause may result in immediate termination of the Agreement and may subject the Talent to legal action, including claims for reputational damage, financial loss, and injunctive relief.

16. Intellectual Property

Any intellectual property created by the Talent in the performance of the Services shall be the property of the Client or Huzzle, as applicable. The Talent hereby absolutely and with full title guarantee assigns to Huzzle, by way of present assignment of present and future rights, title, and interest, all Intellectual Property Rights in and to any and all Created Works and Inventions ("Assigned Rights").

This assignment includes the right to bring and defend any claim or cause of action arising from ownership of any of the Assigned Rights whether occurring before, on, or after the date of this Agreement. Insofar as they do not vest automatically by operation of law or under this assignment, the Talent holds legal title in these Intellectual Property Rights, Created Works and Inventions on trust for Huzzle.

To the extent that any future Assigned Rights can be assigned under this section they are so assigned. To the extent that they cannot by operation of law be so assigned, the Talent agrees to assign them to Huzzle on their coming into existence.

The Talent will notify Huzzle in writing of all Inventions promptly on their creation.

The Talent will whenever requested to do so by Huzzle and in any event on the termination of this Agreement, promptly deliver to Huzzle all Equipment and Materials recording or relating to any part of the Created Works and the process of their creation which are in their possession, custody, or power (excluding Equipment and Materials used by the Talent in the ordinary course of their business).

The Talent will not register or attempt to register any of the Intellectual Property Rights in the Created Works, nor any of the Inventions, unless requested to do so in writing by a director of Huzzle.

17. Indemnification

The Talent agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Huzzle, its Clients, officers, employees, and agents from and against any and all claims, damages, losses, and expenses (including reasonable attorney fees) arising out of or resulting from:

1. Any breach of this Agreement by the Talent;
2. Any negligence or willful misconduct by the Talent in the performance of their Services;
3. Any claims related to intellectual property infringement arising from materials or works provided by the Talent; or
4. Any unauthorized disclosure of Confidential Information.

This indemnity shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement effective as of the date and year above first written.
